

COLENE ELRIDGE

Colene is a Human Resources professional known for building strategic relationships to drive results and “get things done”. She has been employed with the Commonwealth of Kentucky Personnel Cabinet’s Office of Diversity and Equality since 2005.

Colene has worked successfully with individuals, enterprise-wide, to build effective and efficient HR practices and processes. Colene is passionate about people, serving customers, and delivering high impact results. She is a dynamic trainer, offering an interactive and innovative approach to learning and employee development.

Colene has a Bachelor’s degree from Transylvania University where she studied Cultural Anthropology, and a Master’s degree in Business Administration from Sullivan University. In her spare time, Colene enjoys Bikram (hot) yoga, serving various roles with the Junior League of Lexington, and spending time with her family.